Patent Enforcement • Trademark Enforcement • Breach of Contract • Fraud • Unfair Competition • Professional Negligence • Copyright Enforcement • Trade Secret Misappropriation • Administrative Proceedings • Appellate Proceedings

Christina Trinh is a member of the Firm's Orange County office. She focuses her practice on complex and intellectual property litigation representing individual and corporate clients, including public and private entities, in both state and federal court, as well as appellate and administrative proceedings from inception through trial. She has particular experience handling patent and trademark infringement, breach of contract, fraud, unfair competition, professional negligence, copyright, and trade secret misappropriation matters. In addition, she has extensive experience litigating Section 337 investigations involving patents before the International Trade Commission (ITC). Christina is committed to achieving her client's objectives, whether that is diligently enforcing their intellectual property rights, providing a vigorous defense, or seeking early dismissal or settlement.

During law school, Christina served as a judicial extern in the Patent Pilot Program, which manages the patent docket of 6 district court judges at the United States District Court, Central District of California.

Christina earned her J.D. from USC Gould School of Law, where she received the American Jurisprudence Award in International Business Transactions and Carl Mason Franklin Award in International Law. She also served as the Executive Lieutenant Governor for the Ninth Circuit of the American Bar Association- Law Student Division, and she served as a Committee Member for USC's Student Bar Association, including the Library and Technology Committee and LA Supreme Court Philanthropy Committee. She earned her B.A. in Political Science with a focus on Political Theory and Intellectual Property from the University of California, Irvine.

When not at work, Christina takes advantage of California's sun and scenic vistas by hiking the state's nature trails and working on her golf game. She also enjoys cooking, baking, video games, and plays a mean game of billiards.
