Trevor assists clients with intellectual property litigation matters, including patent and trademark infringement. Trevor's litigation practice focuses primarily on patent enforcement campaigns. Trevor also assists clients with patent procurement, including patent preparation and prosecution.

Trevor has broad experience with product development, particularly within the realm of mechanical design. Prior to joining Maschoff Brennan, Trevor worked as a mechanical engineer for a consumer electronics company to engineer, design, and prototype portable wireless Bluetooth® speakers. While earning his bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering, Trevor worked with a multidisciplinary team of engineers to engineer, design, and prototype two biometric firearm safes.

Outside of work, Trevor is an avid golfer and enjoys running, gardening, listening to podcasts and audiobooks, and spending time with his wife and children.
